SENATE VOTES 49-33 TO ADJOURN ON FRIDAY

ADJOURNMENT RESOLUTION IS OFFERED BY WALSH

MONTANA SOLON SAYS IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE TO COMPLETE
ACTION ON TARIFF BILL

NO REASON WHY BRIEF RECESS
IS NOT AVAILABLE BEFORE
REGULAR SESSION

Washington, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—The senate voted today to adjourn the special session of congress Friday.

The vote was 49 to 33. The adjournment resolution was proposed by Senator Walsh of Montana, acting democratic leader. It set 10 P. M. as the hour for the senate's adjournment and left the time for adjournment of the house to that body.

Walsh said it would be impossible to complete action on the tariff bill at this session and accordingly that there was no reason why there should not be a brief recess before the regular session.

The motion to adjourn was supported almost solidly by the democrats. The republicans were badly divided. The newly formed group of "young turks" voted almost solidly against adjournment as did the independent republican members of the coalition.

Most of the finance committee republicans voted for adjournment, but Chairman Smoot and Senator Shortridge, republican, California, voted against it.

Fourteen republicans combined with 35 democrats to carry the adjournment resolution. One democrat, Sen. Dill of Washington, voted with 32 republicans against it. The roll call follows:

For adjournment, 49—
Republicans (14)—Bingham, Blaine, Brookhart, Dale, Greene, Hale, Jones, Keyes, McNary, Moses, Norbeck, Phipps, Schall and Steiwer.

Democrats (35)—Ashurst, Barkley, Black, Elease, Bratton, Brock, Broussard, Caraway, Connally, Copeland, Fletcher, George, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hawes, Hayden, Heflin, Kendrick, McKellar, Overman, Pittman, Randall, Sheppard, Simmons, Smith, Steck, Stephens, Swanson, Thomas of Oklahoma, Trammell, Tydings, Wagner, Walsh of Massachusetts, Walsh of Montana.

Against adjournment (33)—

Republicans (32)—Allen, Borah, Capper, Couzens, Cutting, Fess, Frazier, Gillett, Goff, Goldsborough, Hastings, Hatfield, Hebert, Howell, Johnson, Keam, LaFollette, McColloch, McMaster, Norris, Nye, Godie, Patterson, Robinson of Indiana, Sackett, Shortridge, Smoot, Thomas of Idaho, Townsend, Vandenberg, Walcott, Waterman.

Democrats (1)—Dill of Washington.

BATHROOM DOOR SWUNG OPEN AND HE WAS SHOT

Chicago, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—While William O'Brien, 27-year-old motorman, was shaving today preparatory to starting his run, the bathroom door was thrown open and he was shot.

Seriously wounded, he was taken to a hospital where he accused William Door, neighbor, of the shooting, but Mrs. O'Brien, characterized by Chicago law police as "the prettiest blond they ever saw," insisted to police she shot her husband.

Later she refused to talk and Door likewise remained silent. The perplexed desk sergeant booked both of them for investigation until O'Brien recovers enough to amplify his accusations.

"The bathroom door just swung open and I was shot," O'Brien said.

PERSHING'S VIEWS ON PREPAREDNESS

Washington, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—The world is not yet ready to follow merely a good example in the cause of peace, according to General John J. Pershing who, just back from Europe, expressed the opinion that security offered the best protection against war.

"We can't throw down our arms over night," he said. "It isn't peace by example, but peace by security the world needs."

FARMER BURNED TO DEATH IN FIELD

Armour, S. D., Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Charles Baker, farmer, was burned to death in a field near here today, apparently after his clothing had been soaked with gasoline and ignited. Neighbors said Baker had been despondent and expressed the belief he committed suicide.

Texas Mob Storms Jail, Hangs Condemned Slayer

DAM COLLAPSE LEAVES HUNDREDS HOMELESS, ISOLATED

London, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—The collapse of a dam at Duffryn, near Heath, and the flooding of the countryside for miles around, left hundreds homeless and isolated by the rising waters in southern Wales today.

The release of waters from the broken dam caused numerous landslides which blocked rail traffic and wrecked a freight train near Bridgend. Mines and other works were flooded. One hundred thousand residents in the upper Rhondda district are isolated with flood waters still rising.

MEMORY OF SECRETARY GOOD IS HONORED

UNDER PROCLAMATION OF THE
PRESIDENT, GOVERNMENT
MACHINERY AT STANDSTILL

FLAGS AT HALF-MAST ON ALL
BUILDINGS, REVERING MEM-ORY OF SECRETARY OF WAR

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 20.—The memory of James W. Good, humble servant of a proud people, was honored today in impressive ceremonies symbolizing the tribute of the entire nation.

Under a proclamation issued by President Hoover the gigantic government machine was at a standstill this morning, flags were at half-mast on all public buildings and on every area of the high seas which floated a United States naval craft.

The stately east room of the White House was the setting for official funeral services at 11 o'clock, in which ranking officials of all branches of the government and the diplomatic corps joined President and Mrs. Hoover in final tribute to their friend and counselor.

Later today the body of the former secretary of war was to leave the capital on a special train for Cedar Rapids, native city of both Mr. and Mrs. Good. Burial will follow services at the First Presbyterian church of Cedar Rapids, Friday morning.

A military guard of honor which took up its vigil last night escorted the body to the White House early today. There it lay in state amid banks of flowers—the tribute of friends and associates throughout the nation.

The Rev. Joseph R. Sizzo, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, was selected by Mrs. Good to officiate at the White House services. In keeping with her expressed wish, rites of the utmost simplicity were arranged.

Members of the cabinet were honorary pallbearers.

Army posts throughout the nation were to fire a 19-gun salute in honor of the departed chief at retreat tonight.

"The passing of Secretary Good," said President Hoover "removes a devoted public official." That was his formal tribute to his cabinet officer.

"But the first thoughts of those who knew him best and loved him," he continued in tribute to his friend, "are not for his public service. It is for his loyal and self-effacing friendship that thousands remember him; and that affectionate association is now broken."

GETTING JURY TO TRY McMANUS

NEW YORK MAN CHARGED WITH ALLEGED MURDER OF AR-
OLD ROTHSTEIN

By MORRIS DE HAVEN TRACY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Nov. 20.—The jury for the trial of Big George McManus for the alleged murder of Arnold Rothstein, gambler, probably will be completed today.

Seven substantial business men, all typical, prosperous New Yorkers have been passed and permanently seated. More than 60 of the hand-picked panel remain. From among them the jury almost certainly will be selected.

McManus himself has approved each juror seated this far. Sitting at the left of his attorney, James D. C. Murray, he holds a whispered conference with his lawyer before Murray passes upon a talsman. It is noticeable that the defense does not care for men who have had previous experience as jurors in homicide cases, and that it has a preference for Irishmen. The state, on the other hand, would just as soon have an experienced homicide juror and has accepted just one Don of the Emerald Isle.

Charges of Carelessness in Keeping Records Levelled at the University of Minnesota

822 PAGE REPORT ISSUED BY HENRY RINES

HOWEVER, NO SERIOUS MIS-TAKES OR SHORTAGES OF FUNDS ARE FOUND

STUDENT LOAN DEPARTMENT
CHARGED WITH LAXITY RE-
COVERING FUNDS LOANED

St. Paul, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Charges of carelessness in keeping records and accounting for cash receipts were levelled at the University of Minnesota today in an 822-page report issued by Henry Rines, state comptroller and ex-officio public examiner.

No serious mistakes or shortages of funds were found in the University accounts but a number of changes in bookkeeping systems were recommended by Chief Public Examiner Johnson.

The trust funds total $5,230,711.16 but the examiners declared no entries "in the bond register had been made for a period of 18 months to the date of the audit, while the Mayo Foundation account had not been closed for the fiscal year 1927-28 and no entries for the year 1928-29 had been made up to June 14, 1929."

Lack of ample collateral to secure deposits of the Crookston and Morris agricultural schools was reported by Rines and criticism was made of the handling of books covering the University of Minnesota farm school.

Persons in charge of the student loan department were charged with laxity in recovering money loaned to students registered at the University and carelessness in collection of rent on University property was charged. The report said W. R. Smith, a University official, was unable to locate a roll of 1,407 unused tickets for the school golf course but that the tickets may have been lost.

The Minnesota union dining hall was criticized for allowing employees to collect money and turn it in without keeping a record through a cash register. Lack of suitable records in the steward's petty cash accounts of Minnesota general hospital was charged.

The examiners also took exception to payment of $420 for addressing 60,000 alumni association envelopes for the purpose of "distribution of legislative material." Such an action "savors of propaganda," Rines said.

SOVIET ATTACK NEAR DAILAINOR REPULSED MONDAY

OFFICIAL CHINESE COMMUNIQUE
CARRIES BATTLE INFOR-MATION

2,000 TROOPS PARTICIPATED, BE-
ING AIDED BY 20 PLANES, AR-TILLERY AND TANKS

Harbin, Manchuria, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—A Soviet attack in the vicinity of Dailainor was repulsed Monday, an official Chinese communique announced today.

Two thousand troops participated in the attack, and were aided by twenty planes, artillery and tanks.

From Manchuli, word of further Chinese success reached here. Russian planes dropped more than 200 bombs in an attempt to destroy a coal mine supplying the Chinese Eastern railway with fuel. After severe fighting, the attack was repulsed, with the Chinese capturing 300 infantrymen and 20 machine guns.

Chinese casualties were estimated at 200.

RUMORS CIRCULATE THAT NADIR KHAN WAS ASSASSINATED

Peshawar, India, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Unconfirmed rumors were circulated here today saying that Nadir Khan, ruler of Afghanistan, had been assassinated in Kabul.

The rumors said the assassins were tribesmen of the rebellious natives, either the Chikzais or the Wazirris.

Nadir Khan recently overthrew the usurper King Bacha Sakao and after capturing the Afghan capital ordered the execution of the former ruler.

ROBOT AIRMAN OPERATES WELL

CAPABLE OF CONTROLLING AIR-PLANES IN ALL KINDS OF WEATHER

London, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—An infallible Robot airman, capable of controlling airplanes of all sizes in all kinds of weather with more dependability than the human pilot, has been produced by the scientists of the Royal Aircraft establishment, the air correspondent of the Daily News said today.

The Robot pilot consist of a compass pistons, rudder and elevators of any type machine from the smallest single-seater to the large twin-engine bombers and flying boats. The gyroscope weighs 100 pounds and has been demonstrated successfully over distances of 400 miles, bowing to the human pilot only when planes must ascend or descend.

The correspondent said it was understood the Royal Air Force was contemplating adapting the device for use in future long distance duration flights and that commercial airplanes were negotiating for the device for the purpose of installing it in passenger and mail planes.

HENRY N. BENSON NEW ATTORNEY GENERAL OF STATE

VETERAN STATE LEGISLATOR OF
ST. PETER TAKES OATH
OF OFFICE TODAY

SUCCEEDS G. A. YOUNQUIST WHO BECOMES U. S. ASST. ATTY.
GENERAL

St. Paul, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Henry N. Benson, veteran state legislator of St. Peter, today took the oath of office that made him attorney general of Minnesota.

Benson succeeds G. A. Youngquist, who recently was appointed by President Hoover to the post of United States attorney general in charge of prohibition.

The new state's attorney indicated in his replies to interviewers that he will attempt to closely follow out the policies established by Youngquist. In a statement Benson declared he planned no sweeping change in the administration of the office.

"The people of Minnesota are entitled to the best service which the office of attorney general can render," the statement said. "It will be my earnest desire to sustain the office to its high degree of efficiency as was shown in the past."

Shortly before taking the oath of office before Mike Holm, secretary of state, Benson declined to be quoted on the attitude his office would maintain toward prohibition enforcement.

HORDES OF WOLVES INVADE THE SUBURBS OF MOSCOW, RUSSIA

London, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—An invasion of hordes of wolves in the crowded suburbs of Moscow was described in a Daily News dispatch from the Soviet capital today.

Moscow's suburbs recently have been overcrowded with peasants who have set up temporarily homes while awaiting permission to migrate to Canada.

SNOW STORMS HOLD ROCKIES IN AN ICY GRIP

SEVENTH STORM OF SEASON
SENDS TEMPERATURES TO LOW POINTS

PARALYZED AIR TRANSPORTA-TION AND TRAFFIC IN THREE STATES

Denver, Colo., Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—The seventh snow storm of the season held most of the Rocky Mountain region in its icy grip today, sending temperatures down to as low as ten degrees above zero.

The storm, which raced down from the north yesterday, moved southward into New Mexico, after paralyzing air transportation and traffic in Colorado, Wyoming and parts of Montana.

Denver was blanketed under two inches of snow, while four inches were reported at Cheyenne and Lander, Wyo.

Although the storm brought hardships to ranchers in Colorado and Wyoming and miners in the Leadville, Colo., mountain district, no casualties had been reported.

Ice and sleet added to traffic hazards in parts of Montana. A number of accidents were reported at Helena and at other cities.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 20.—Temperatures of several degrees below zero were reported from several sections of Manitoba today as western Canada felt the first icy touch of winter. Unofficial readings of six below zero were recorded at Minnedosa and The Pas while the mercury touched three below.

St. Paul, Nov. 20.—Ice-coated highways slowed down automobile traffic in several sections of Minnesota today as the state shivered in the second day of the winter's first cold snap.

Light snowfalls were reported from several sections of the state and temperatures of between 15 and 30 degrees above zero prevailed.

Snow was reported at Moorhead, Thief River Falls and Bemidji in Minnesota and at several points in North and South Dakota.

The forecast was for clear weather with continued cold.

PLAN TO SEARCH FOR ARCTIC ACE

CARL BEN EIELSON REPORTED
MISSING IN SIBERIAN WASTES
SINCE NOV. 9

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Two pilots of the Alaska Airways, Inc., were awaiting clear weather today before taking off in search of their flying mate, Carl Ben Eielson, reported missing in the bleak Siberian wastes since November 9 while on an errand of mercy to succor the crew of the trading ship Nanuk, frozen in the ice off Cape North.

Frank Dorbandt, who started out with Eielson, but was forced to turn back, was at Teller, 100 miles north of here, while Joe Crosson, late of the Wilderson South Pole expedition, was due to start from Fairbanks to Nome as soon as flying conditions permitted.

Eielson, with his mechanic, Borland, was flying a Hamilton all metal plane. They had with them rations sufficient for thirty days, equipment including a stove, tent, skis and snowshoes. Officials of the Alaska Airways were confident that Eielson had made a landing because of poor visibility, and had established himself in some trader's cabin until able to take off again.

On a previous trip returning from the ice-bound Nanuk, Eielson was forced down thirty miles northwest of Cape Serdze, and remained in a trader's cabin for two weeks before resuming his flight. It was believed he may have done the same thing this time.

The only communication possible with the region where Eielson was believed to have been forced down, is via wireless from the Nanuk, or by the slow "dog post"— Eskimo dog teams that chance to pick up information and relay it to the coast.

Eielson was a pilot in the Sir Hubert Wilkins expedition which conducted recent Arctic explorations.

RATLIFF WAS KNOWN AS SANTA CLAUS BANDIT

THOUSAND MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN WATCH DEATH
STRUGGLE AT EASTLAND

BANDIT STRUNG NUDE TO TELE-PHONE POLE, FIRST ROPE
BROKE; SECOND ONE USED

Eastland, Texas, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Horror at its own blood lust gripped Eastland today, where a mob last night stormed the county jail, seized a condemned murderer and hanged him, naked, to a telephone pole a block from the court house.

More than 1,000 men, women and children watched Ratliff, known as the "Santa Claus bandit," die a gruesome and lingering death because he had shot and probably fatally wounded Jailer T. A. Jones in an attempt to break jail Monday night.

The rope from which the nude man dangled broke as he was swung into the air and he fell. A second rope was knotted around his neck and again he was lifted, until his toes just touched the pavement.

No arrests had been made early today. It was pointed out that the size of the mob made official action difficult but authorities indicated they would take whatever steps seemed required after completing the investigation they started today.

Justice of the Peace Jim Steele ordered the body sent to an undertaking establishment after he was notified of the lynching.

Marshall Ratliff died at the hands of an infuriated mob instead of in the electric chair to which he had been sentenced to terminate a strange criminal career. Dressed in a Santa Claus costume, he participated, with three other men, in the robbery of a Cisco, Texas, bank on Christmas Eve two years ago. A bank official was slain in the gun battle that ensued.

With his companions, he wandered in the underbrush until he was almost starved before they were captured. He had been doomed to die by a jury and had seen one of his companions march past his cell on the way to the death chamber.

Fifteen men marched past Ratliff's cell on the death march, 14 of them to the tune of "Nearer My God to Thee," played on a phonograph Ratliff had.

His mother, Mrs. Rolla Carter, maintained that ghastly parade had caused her son's mind to snap and he was waiting for a sanity hearing.

Monday night he feigned paralysis and when the jailer left his cell door open, Ratliff ran out, snatched Jones' pistol and shot him three times. He was overpowered by E. K. Kilbourne, another jailer.

Feeling ran high here and at Cisco. At 9 P. M. yesterday the storm of resentment broke. Shouting threats of vengeance, a crowd of men started on a run toward the jail. Others joined them at every street intersection. The rumble of cries brought hundreds more into the streets.

Kilbourne's attempt to halt the mob was futile. His keys were taken from him and he was pushed aside.

Ratliff was lying on his bunk, undressed for the night. He was jerked to his feet and dragged down the street to the first convenient telephone post.

He died despite the unwritten code of the old west that if a man survived the first attempt to hang him, he was spared.

CHILD FLOUNDERS IN SHALLOW WATER

New York, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Twenty persons stood on the banks of a Central Park Lake and watched Martin Rothstein, flounder about in the water, in danger of drowning. Dr. Joseph Levenson, passing by, shouted to the faint hearted onlookers that the lake was only three feet deep and one of them rescued the child.

Upper picture is of the Petrel, a thirty-foot cabin launch, owned by Karl Miller and Duncan Clinch of Chicago. Special Services at M. E. Church
There was an increased attendance last night at the Methodist church. The audience appreciated the solo of Fred Lind, also the fine response to his leadership of the congregational singing.

The message last night was "Receiving Christ." Certain qualities prevent folks from receiving Christ: prejudice, false expectation and unwillingness to change attitudes. This rejection of Christ is the tragedy of humanity, said the speaker. Receiving Christ determines life's relationships.

"From Christ we discover that life is more than material and our conviction of the ultimate triumph of good over evil. Receiving Christ produces life's best expressions. The children of God are the best types of humanity. Jesus is the best expression of life. We can meet all the demands of life as we obey the leadership of Christ. Receiving Christ gives us the right to become, continue and accomplish the whole purpose of sons of God."

The services continue tonight at 7:45 o'clock. The theme tonight will be "The Test of a Christian."

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

November 19, 1904

A few days ago the Wadena Cracker factory burned down and one of the most flourishing institutions in northern Minnesota was temporarily put out of business. It has not been decided, according to reports from Wadena, whether the factory will be built up, again or not. In connection with this, however, it has been rumored that the promoters and those interested would enterprise to this city.

A very pleasant birthday surprise was given Mrs. A. T. Fisher last Tuesday evening at her home, 511 North Broadway by Messrs. and Mesdames C. L. Burnett, G. I. Whitney, W. J. Weddell, Wm. P. Bartsch and J. Nicholson, who left a pretty parlor picture as a memento of the occasion. Prof. Bartsch rendered a few piano selections.

Louis Hohman left this afternoon for Akeley where he will enjoy his annual expedition hunting deer.

Men are at work tearing down the old buildings adjoining what was once the Arlington hotel. The buildings will all be torn down and the ground leveled off.

Clerk of Court W. A. M. Johnstone is in Minneapolis attending the big Shrine meeting.

An attempt upon the part of several small boys at Little Falls to make a parachute which would work resulted in the serious injury of the six year old son of E. J. Ring, the well known contractor who worked here nearly all summer. The parachute was made of pasteboard and the Ring boy jumped off the roof of a barn. He dropped about 20 feet and was picked up unconscious. He suffered a broken leg.

President G. D. LaBar of the First National bank left yesterday on a trip to Walker on business.

Dr. J. L. Camp returned from North Dakota yesterday where he went with Dr. Wheeler of Grand Forks for a few days' hunting.

November 20, 1904

The firm of H. F. Michael & Co. have been in business in Brainerd just a month and they feel that they have a great deal to be thankful for as business has been better than they expected.

Mrs. A. E. Moberg left for Chicago today where she will join her husband and from there they will go on to St. Louis to see the big fair.

Stock Speculations

A GOOD review of the collapse of stock speculations is given by the National City Bank of New York in a circular issued recently.

The collapse overshadowed all other events in business during the past month.

"Violent as has been the decline and serious as have been the losses of individuals, we do not believe the fundamentals of the business situation have been changed. The losses have been losses to individuals, not losses reducing the country's productive capacity. The country's farms, mines, mills and factories are intact."

"The losses and gains of individuals in the stock market are at each other's expense, not affecting the aggregate wealth of the country. They arise out of a redistribution of ownership in the corporations, and while it is deplorable that redistribution should occur in such a ruthless manner, the industries themselves are only incidentally affected."

"The high prices that have ruled on the stock exchange have not been the cause of business activity, but a reflection of it, magnified by more or less extravagant expectations which induced the speculating public to extend itself beyond its means. While reports of slackening business in certain lines of industry may have been one factor in the final break, the main cause was in the condition of the market itself. All over the country general business is proceeding in a healthy and orderly fashion which is in marked contrast with the chaotic conditions in the stock market."

"Recent reports from the industries have been favorable, indicating that a confidence is unimpaired. The accumulation of stocks in the automobile industry and slowing down of production is fully accounted for in the record-breaking activity of the first half of the year, and such decline as has occurred in the steel industry is accounted for by the slackening in automobile production."

"For the past year the growing stringency in money has been the chief source of anxiety in the minds of competent authorities, and this situation is now promised relief by a subsidence of the abnormal demand for speculation."

"That consumer purchasing power will be hurt in numerous individual cases of course is true, but observation has taught that whether the misfortune be a hurricane, a great conflagration, or a stock market crash, the first impressions almost invariably exaggerate the true extent of the damage. Never before in the history of the country have our industries been better fortified as to cash, condition of inventory, or soundness of corporate structure. There has been no inflation of commodity prices to require correction; no crisis in the banking system to aggravate the situation."

Minnesotans at Livestock Show

MINNESOTA and North Dakota farmers will be lively competitors for prizes at the International Livestock Exposition and Grain and Hay Show at Chicago, November 30 to December 7.

Four Minnesota livestock breeders and five from North Dakota have entered animals for the exposition, according to B. H. Heide, secretary of the show. Entries for 156 samples of Minnesota grain and 170 of North Dakota grain have been recorded.

More than 250 Minnesota and North Dakota farmers, many of them exhibitors of products to be adjudged at the world's outstanding show, will make the trip to Chicago on the Northern Pacific's special train. A. J. Dexter, agricultural development agent for the railway company, said that early reservations indicate the Chicago show will attract more farmers from the northwest than in any other year.

Among the Minnesota entries will be nine head of Belgian horses from the string owned by Earle Brown, head of the Minnesota Highway Patrol; three breeding Shorthorns by A. W. Krage, Caledonia; two of the same kind by H. O. Teller, breeder at Farmington; and a large list of entries by the University Farm, St. Paul. The University Farm entries include 14 head of cattle, 32 hogs and 11 sheep in the fat classes and 13 sheep and five draft horses in the breeding classes.

Both the University Farm and the North Dakota Agricultural College will be represented in the livestock judging contest for students at the International. Four-H club boys and girls will participate in a program of their own.

The Rat Colony at the Dump

SOME people never bothered by rodents have read with a smile of amusement the news stories carried in the Dispatch of the ever growing rat colony out at the city dump in West Brainerd.

The rats have thrived and multiplied and have waxed fat from the waste thrown out there. Now with colder weather coming on, the thermometer registered 10 above last night, the rats and their families are seeking indoor shelter. When the exodus is fully under way for the basements of Brainerd, the result will be enough to make any housewife shudder.

Many of these rats have probably assumed the proportions of muskrats and the damage they will do to property cannot be estimated. The city council has instructed the police department to exterminate the rats and the quickest way is to get at them while still making their abode at the dump. When they scatter about town this winter, their extermination becomes a problem for every household bothered by the pest.

These rats are not the type of wee mice, but they are rodents of a wild, open air type, which would drive the hardiest tomcat to cover should a battle occur between the two.

There are no pied pipers extant. Alderman Frank B. Johnson, the druggist, however, should have remedies enough on hand to cope with the situation.

THE State Highway Department is working vigorously to maintain all gravel roads in the highest state of efficiency so that the freezeup will give us smooth roads, clear of ruts.

THE public library of Chisholm has requested a levy of $45,000 to cover expenses in 1930.

MINNEAPOLIS is planning on establishing a public square in the Gateway district.

Forsakes Leopard Babies For Waif

Mrs. John L. Tyson, twenty-one-year-old granddaughter of E. T. Stotenburg, of Philadelphia, has forsaken her hobby of raising leopard cubs to adopt a six-month-old baby boy secured from a New York institution. She has christened the new baby Christopher Gilbert Tyson.

Victor and Vanquished in Mexican Presidential Race

The Presidential campaign in Mexico this year did not lack of the color of former years, inasmuch as it was marked by violent riots and much bloodshed. Last year the newly-elected President, Alvaro Obregon, was assassinated before he could take office. Above are the two candidates who sought Presidential honors. Latest reports indicate that Pascual Rubio (left) has been declared victor by an overwhelming majority over his opponent, Jose Vasconcelos (right).

Wonderful St. Peter's

It is impossible even to estimate the cost of St. Peter's church in Rome. This church, which is the largest church edifice in the world, has been centuries in the building, and the question of money cost has not entered into the matter at all. Millions have been spent both for the structure and for the decorations.

Upland Rice Unprofitable

The Department of Agriculture says that upland rice is not raised commercially, since it produces only about half as much per acre as does the lowland or flood land rice. Families through South Carolina and Albania sometimes raise enough for their own use, but it is not profitable for market cultivation.

After proceeding through scenes filled with drama and suspense the story ended in a highly unusual denouement. We will not tell it here. Sufficient to say that it took the audience by storm.

BELIEVED WILL BE BEST SINCE YEARS OF 1876

ANYTHING MAY HAPPEN, AND PROBABLY WILL, IN HARVARD STADIUM

YALE WILL HAVE NO SUCH TIME WITH HARVARD AS WITH PRINCETON LAST WEEK

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Nov. 20.—Yale and Harvard men are looking forward to next Saturday's football game with anticipation that it will prove one of the greatest of their long line of gridiron engagements extending back to 1876.

This coming battle in Harvard Stadium is one in which anything can happen, and probably will. Yale, for all the dash and power of its backs, will have no such time with Harvard as with Princeton last Saturday.

The Crimson eleven combines rugged defensive power with a deceptive passing game. Once Barry Wood, the tennis star, stands back of that brawny rush line and starts pegging passes to every part of the gridiron, a score is likely to follow at any minute.

Yale has not failed once to show a slashing attack at some time during each big game save that with Georgia, and this consistency, accompanied by steady improvement in the forward line, is vastly encouraging to the sons of Eli.

In Albie Booth, who will be ready when called upon, Yale has the greatest back of the season. In addition, there are nearly a dozen other backs, a far more impressive array than Harvard can muster. There is Don McLennan, hero of the Princeton game, Taylor, Austen, Hall, Ellis, Miller, Snead, Dunn and Beane.

The Yale forward line has improved steadily all season. Barres and Hickok are big, fast ends, Vincent is an outstanding tackle, Captain "Firpo" Greene can hold his own with any guard, and Phillips has put a lot of pep into the business of playing center.

Harvard has no such imposing array to muster. The Crimson has five regular backs in shape for the game and no particularly promising substitutes. Harper, who was one of the best Harvard backs, is injured and may be unable to play. The other backs who are certain to go in are Wood, Putname, Mays, Devens and White.

The Crimson line has won the praise of every opponent it has faced this year, with Ben Tichnor, at center, the best of a husky lot.

Husking Champ

Walter Olson of Rio, Ill., who won the world corn-husking championship for the second consecutive year. The contest took place on the Paul Renz farm near Hattie City, Mo. At one stage of the contest Olson was husking at the rate of 38 ears of corn a minute, and the record which won him the title was 25.27 bushels in 30 minutes.

CROSBY FOOTBALL TEAM'S RECORD

Crosby, Nov. 20.—The Crosby-Ironton high school football team has completed its schedule without a defeat for the third time in three successive years. Herman Wook is coach.

This year the C-I team scored 131 points against 18 for its opponents. A summary of the games played follows: Alexandria 0, C-I 7; Staples 6, C-I 12; Deer River 0, C-I 29; Park Rapids 6, C-I 23; Aitkin 0, C-I 21; Little Falls 6, C-I 16; Brainerd 0, C-I 13.

Bad Enough Now

Let us pray that the situation will never get so bad that a man's age will be reckoned by the number of week-ends he has survived.—Toledo Blade.

SHIKAT, TEUTON, THROWS HAGEN OF U.S. MARINES

New York, Nov. 20.—(U.P.)—Richard Shikat of Germany, recognized world's heavyweight wrestling champion, threw George Hagen of the United States marines in one hour and 15 minutes at the Ridge-wood Grove Sporting club, Brooklyn, last night.

Drawing a Line

As a matter of practice we know that a line can be drawn, as we make use of drawn lines all through our lifetime. As a matter of mathematical theory a line has length, but no breadth or thickness, and from that point of view it is impossible to draw a line without giving it some breadth or thickness.

An Explanation

The reason there is plenty of room at the top is because so many who get there fall off.—Grand Rapids Press.

Treatment of the Child

When you waken a child do it in a pleasant way. Do not take him by the ear and pull him out of bed. It is disagreeable for the child and injures the general tout ensemble of the ear. When children go to sleep with tears on their cheeks and are awakened by the yowl of dyspeptic parents, they have a pretty good excuse for crime in after years. If I sat on the bench in such cases I would mitigate the sentence.—Bill Nye.

Jud Tunkins

Jud Tunkins says he never lost a friend, but he has met several folks who started in friendly, for business purposes, and afterward strayed off on their own account.—Washington Star.

Optimist Reflects Joy

Optimism is nothing more than a pleasant outlook on life, a sense of satisfaction with the world—what it is, what it is going to be. The optimist reflects the joy of life, and by so doing makes it even more cheerful.—Grit.

Mexico's New Chief

Pascual Ortiz Rubio, president-elect of Mexico, was elected by a majority exceeding 800,000, the largest ever piled up by a presidential candidate in Mexico.

Custom of "Toasting"

The custom of drinking to health and success to undertakings at banquets dates back to the time of the Romans. The word "toast" appears to have originated from the practice of putting bits of toast in the wine, the guest partaking of such a sip with the draught of wine as soon as the felicitation had passed the lips.

Grandeur in Littleness

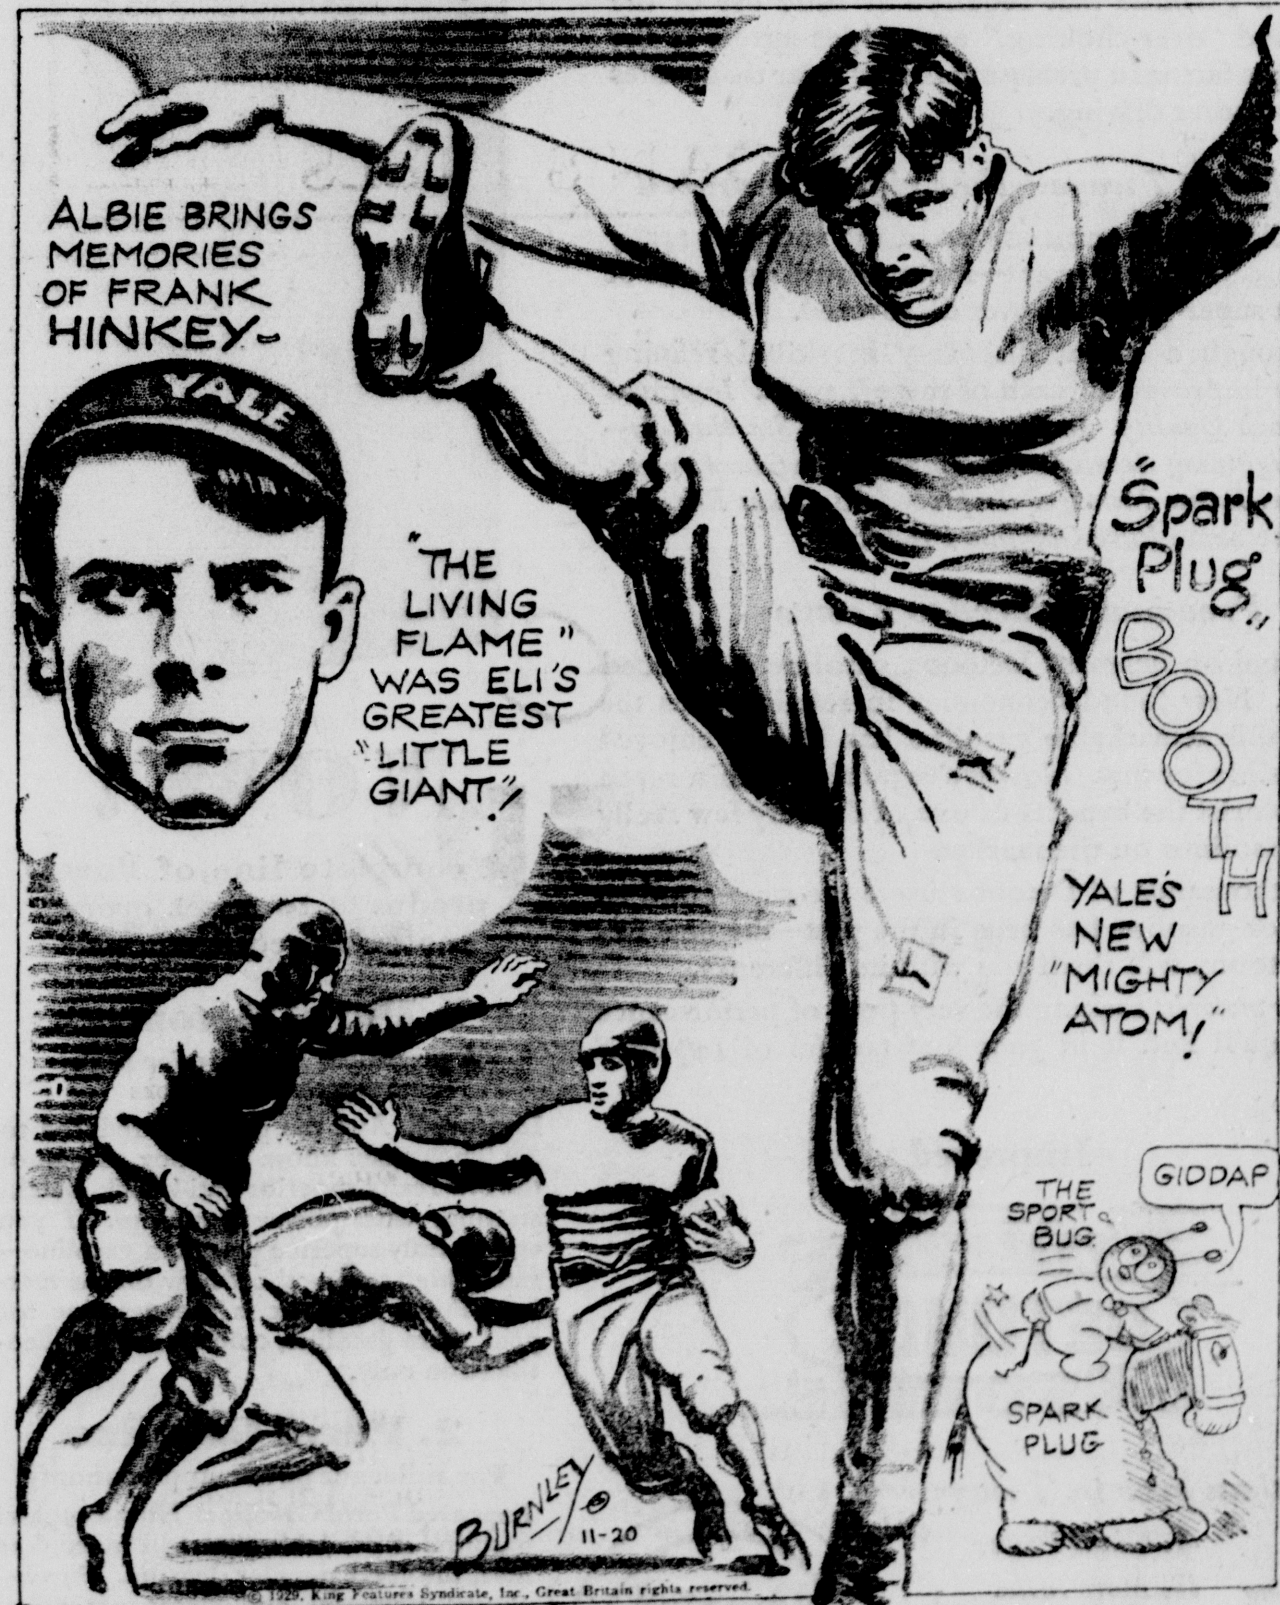

Man upon this earth would be vanity and hollowness, dust and ashes, vapor and a bubble, were it not that he felt himself to be so. That it is possible for him to harbor such a feeling—this, by implying a comparison of himself with something higher in himself, this is it which makes him the immortal creature that he is.—Jean Paul Richter.

Not So Easy

The little job of being square with yourself and not being afraid to look yourself in the eye covers a lot of territory.—American Magazine.

Old Eli's Immortal Midgets

By HARDIN BURNLEY

OF ALL the many laurel-laden phrases heaped on Yale's extraordinary sophomore back that which probably thrills him most, as it does all other sons of Eli, is:

"Albie Booth's a backfield Hinky!"

To those who stand uncovered when "Bright College Years" is intoned, that is the highest of athletic honors, the most eloquent of football eulogies, the accolade of gridiron immortality.

For Hinky—though small and light—was in all probability the most dynamic and devastating football player that Yale ever produced in all its generations of gridiron heroes. Four years an All-American end, this "Disembodied Spirit"—this "Pretoplasmic Flame"—threw his 145 pounds into the fray between the giants of football's "Neolithic Nineties" with teeth-rattling fury and smashing success. Veterans who saw him play pale even now as they tell of Hinky's deadly tackling, interference-wrecking charges, and berserk dashes when he got hold of the ball. He must have played like a man possessed—a tiny tremendous dynamo—that charged whole Yale teams with the electrical fires of his own will-to-win!

Now, after more than thirty years, Yale again amazes with another little gridster—a back, not an end, this time—who galvanizes his fellows into full team power with the electrical clan of Hinky of old. Booth is modern football's midget marvel—a will-to-wisdom through lines or on end sweeps, a remarkable outer, an excellent drop-kicker, a better than average passer, and a Hinky at dropping 'em hard when they reach the safety zone!

Booth is no flash-in-the-pan. He was a genuine schoolboy wonder at New Haven High and Milford Prep. He was captain of the Yale freshman football, basketball and baseball teams! And this year in so-called individual duels, Old Eli's "Little Boy Blue" has outdone such stars as Fogarty of Brown, Cagle of the Army and Masters of Dartmouth in three successive Yale victories!

Unlike Hinky, Booth does not work himself into a fiery frenzy in play. He's as cool as cold steel—sharp, swift and durable in action. If spirits ride the winds and haunt historic spots, Hinky hovers over Booth whenever little Albie does his startling stuff for old Yale in combat with giants!

Why the New 1930 Hupmobiles are VELVET-SMOOTH

High speeds ordinarily bring out noise and discomfort that low speeds conceal. But Hupmobile's smoothness extends throughout the speed range. The extra-heavy, counterweighted crankshaft, with wide cheeks and big bearings, spins true and vibration-free. There are roller bearings on transmission countershaft and sliding gear shaft. Silent steel chains drive camshaft and generator. A spring cushion keeps the clutch quiet. Improved shock absorbers respond, noiselessly, to every move of the body. Matched springs float you along, with no protesting creaks. Spare wheel carriers are bolted rigidly to the frame. Tailor-fitted bodies eliminate rattles. Big steel-draulic brakes neither squeak nor chatter. Fenders and running boards of heavy steel, strongly braced, are solid at all speeds. The steering wheel stays steady.

Drive either or both of these two new Hupmobiles. Give them your hardest tests. Listen for noise. Watch for vibration. And you'll say, "Smooth as velvet."

Troops to be Dropped

The following troops are being dropped November 30 from the rolls of the Central Minnesota Council. No one in their sponsoring organization seems to be interested and the aid the Scout Headquarters staff has given does not seem to bring results. A live group can sponsor a live troop and those troops do not seem to have the backing even though the boys want to be scouts. If the applications for re-registration are in before November 30 they will be carried on the rolls.

Troop 1—Methodist church, St. Cloud.

Troop 6—Roosevelt School Mother's club, St. Cloud.

Troop 7—American Legion, Foley.

Troop 33—Citizens Group, Central, Minn.

Troop 53—Citizens Group, Hill City.

Troop 61—Sea Scout Com., St. Cloud.

Troop News

Troop 66, Isle, Minn. Have signed up three new Tenderfoot Scouts and they are now working hard to pass their Second Class work. They are Robert Shockley, Arthur Kilmer, and Wilson Day. They are under the leadership of Scoutmaster A. H. Lockwood and Assistant S. M. Henry Mead.

Troop 19, Milaca re-registered 30 Scouts, 15 new ones, only losing five boys during the year from the old troop. They are under Scoutmaster Stanley Johnston, a graduate of L. D. Zelney's Scout Leadership course at T. C. They have a fine organization with two assistant S. M. two junior assistant S. M.'s, who are Eagle Scouts and several good Patrol Leaders.

Troop 65 of Wadena reports fine progress, and that their Scoutmaster Ole Thompson will be taking the Columbia Home Study course in Scouting.

Troops 70 and 71 of Little Falls had their induction ceremony on Friday evening. Dave Larson is S. M. of Troop 70 and has 13 Scouts. Mr. Carpenter is Scoutmaster of Troop 71 with 12 Scouts.

Troop 12 of Becker are proceeding along lines laid out by themselves for progress. They are also trying to interest the country schools to the extent of establishing patrols in these schools.

Troop 8 of East St. Cloud are holding regular meetings every week and making good progress, we can expect some very good things of them in the near future.

We Never Hear From Them

We have a group of troops that are registered and probably doing good Scout work, but we never hear a thing about them. Some of them need a Scoutmaster. Right here in St. Cloud we have need of several men now. But the troops we never hear of any more are:

Troop 2—Cathedral, St. Cloud.

Troop 10—Tech High, St. Cloud.

Troop 11—American Legion, St. Cloud.

Troop 21—Kimball, Minn.

Troop 24—Deerwood.

Troop 36—Long Prairie.

Troop 40—St. Cloud.

We Need Scout Leaders

Four troops located in St. Cloud need Scoutleaders. Some man who does not think he is too busy to give a little time to helping develop boys along the character training necessary for many boys. It's a small thing for a man to do, but a great thing in the eyes of a boy.

Mr. Dudley Resigns

We have lost a good Scoutleader boys, in Glenn Dudley, he loves Scouts, and likes the boys, but, he says he cannot do two jobs and his hours will not permit him doing any further Scout work. The Legion loses a good boy leader, as does Scouting and the community in general. We hope that Mr. Dudley may be able to again come back to Scout work at some future date. He has put over a fine job and his place will be hard to fill.

What Do You Read?

Say Scout? What are you reading? What do we care. Well we are always interested in things you boys do, whether they may be good, bad or indifferent. No we aren't going to preach any sermon on what you should not read. We believe a Scout has sense enough to pick out as good reading material as he can. Next week is Book Week. You'll hear about it at school and elsewhere. We are listing a few books, read by "we, us & company" and if you have never read any of them just try some of them and see how you like them. We'll be willing to wager you'll come back for more.

Books Given Scouts

James Gerrard of St. Cloud has recently presented the Boy Scouts with a set of Encyclopedia Britannica. This will be on hand at the Scout Headquarters during the winter and at the Camp during the summer. The Scouts of St. Cloud and the staff wish to take this opportunity to extend their appreciation to Mr. Gerrard for his gift.

Mrs. Thompson Seton

Next Friday evening at the St. Cloud Teachers College every Scout will have a chance to hear Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton tell about the "Wild Life in South America." Do not miss this fellows, it will be a rare treat. All Scouts should go in uniform to give a welcome to the wife of one of the Pioneer Scouts of this country and one who so kindly sent his photograph to be used as our Fire by Friction trophy.

CHURCH NIGHT IN BRAINERD

Ministerial Association Advocates
Establishing Thursday Evening
as That Night

ARGUMENTS ADVANCED

Special Committee of Association Addresses Communication to Public

In a communication addressed to the Brainerd Dispatch a special committee of the Brainerd Ministerial Association advocates the establishment of Thursday evening as "Church Night" in Brainerd. The statement reads:

Some years ago, the mayor of one of our large cities was asked for an appointment on a certain Wednesday evening, his reply was, "I will be pleased to make an appointment any time after 9 o'clock. That is the evening my church holds its mid-week prayer service and I am always there."

This together with other qualities seemed to reflect upon his life, for his course has been upward, always entrenched in the confidence of the people.

There seems to be a very close relationship between the physical and the spiritual. As it is necessary to spend time in the cultivation of the physical that there may be a sound foundation for health and intellectual attainment, so it is necessary that time be spent in the cultivation of the spiritual, that broad and deep foundation of character may be laid. Much more necessary because it is the foundation of all other foundations. The spiritual is a power that transcends the physical and there is no limit to its reach. This power is shown in races, societies and individuals.

As we near Thanksgiving time, we are especially happy that our forefathers, the early settlers of this great country, appreciated the spiritual values and spent the time necessary to acquire them. Thus time was centered around the church, the first institution they built. This inheritance, so generously bequeathed to us, has ever widened its influence and power, and shown itself in the stability of the country we call our own.

Naturally the church of today tries to conserve the blessings so generously showered upon it. To do this the church functions to its fullest extent on the Sabbath day, but feels that the space of time between these two days is too long without a gathering for spiritual uplift. So it looks to the history of the church again and finds that the mid-week service has held a place of inestimable value.

The churches of our city realize this source of great power in a city life. With a splendid spirit of unanimity, the Brainerd churches come before the people asking for the reservation of a night during the week to be known as Church Night. Each church is to decide what use it is to make of it. Of course it will be used for some phase of church work or devotion. The night most commonly used in Brainerd for this work is Thursday. For this reason the churches are asking that Thursday evening be set aside. That our city schools, all business organizations, social clubs and other organizations and individuals and families in arranging their social affairs as far as in their command, keep this evening free. It is believed that future years will show the wisdom of this community cooperation.

to Duluth For Trial

Three more defendants in liquor cases were arraigned in municipal court this morning, bringing the total in the past 24 hours up to 18.

Margaret Glen, Mrs. S. W. Glen of Ironton and Jack Cassel waived examination and were held to district court on charges of sale. Judge J. H. Warner set bonds in each case at $500.

A number of defendants will be arraigned in district court this afternoon. All are expected to enter pleas of guilty.

The arrests and raids were made on federal warrants but defendants were given a chance to plead here. Those who plead not guilty will be tried at Duluth, thus saving the county the expense of trials.

The county sheriff's department co-operated with the federal department under jurisdiction of C. W. Williams in bringing about the cleanup.

How to Choose a Radio

The prospective buyer of radio is often confused by the mass of claims and counter-claims advanced by competitive makers. The essentials of a fine radio receiver are easily discovered. Look for them . . . find them before you buy . . . and don't be misled or distracted by glib argument.

Ask Yourself-and Your Ears-These Questions

- 1 Is the tone convincing, real, life-like?
- 2 Is it warm and vibrant and sonorous . . . or merely noisy?
- 3 Is the bass rich and clear and deep—or is it only a rumbling, "muddy" reverberation?
- 4 Are the middle tones of voice and instrument clear, natural, full and resonant?
- 5 Are the upper tones bright and distinct, or are they clouded or shrill?
- 6 Does the speaking voice sound perfectly natural? Are "s" sounds perfect, or do they sound like "f"?
- 7 Does the voice seem present, or does it seem to come through a megaphone?
- 8 Is the music perfect at full volume, or does the loud-speaker rattle, or is there distortion at full volume?
- 9 Does the music impress you as being real rather than reproduced?
- 10 How does the performance compare with that of Victor Radio?
- 11 Is the set sensitive enough to bring in distant stations at satisfactory volume?
- 12 Can you tune out unwanted programs without difficulty?
- 13 Is tuning simple, instantaneous, micro-exact?
- 14 Do you locate stations on the dial at their proper frequency (kilocycles)?
- 15 Can you see the entire dial at a glance?
- 16 Is the cabinet modern, compact, and of best workmanship?
- 17 Is it ornate with meaningless decoration, or simple and dignified?
- 18 Is it reasonably priced?
- 19 Is it worth the money, as far as you can judge?
- 20 Has the maker any considerable experience or reputation in the field of sound reproduction? Is his name old and familiar . . . known for dependability?

Check over these questions with yourself, and you will inevitably be led to Victor Radio . . . "really a musical instrument" . . . the Radio that makes no compromise with Purity of Tone.

*Very important.

HALL'S MUSIC HOUSE

"The Masked Hostess"

by BLAIR STEVENSON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

Upon the death of her father, "Happy Jack" Van Slaick, once wealthy sportsman and social leader, Nathalie Van Slaick, young and beautiful, finds herself left a few dollars and an old, abandoned Long Island estate called "The Firs." After being coldly repulsed by her rich aunt, Mrs. Pemberton Swayne, Nathalie in desperation cashes a check for $500 for which there are no funds. Without her knowledge, John Sloan, young lawyer assigned to her affairs, makes the check good. Fearing that a detective is trailing her, Nathalie leaves a train at Brookville, Long Island. From the president of the local bank, a merciless Shylock, who holds the mortgage on "The Firs," which he desires because the new state road will enhance its value, Nathalie accepts a strange proposition. It is to act as hostess at "The Firs," which is to be rented to a wealthy South American who wishes to entertain his friends. On the condition that her identity remains hidden by wearing a silken mask, Nathalie meets the handsome foreigner, who turns out to be Capt. Ramon Stefano, supposedly of great wealth and much sought after by the young smart set. He does not know that he has previously met her, Nathalie, with a black transformation and Spanish costume and the mask, is unrecognizable. Sloan, in love with Nathalie, warns her of the danger she will be in due to the romantic natures of herself and Stefano. Neither of them realize that Stefano is without funds and is being supported in this venture by a mysterious ex-policeman engaged in shady deals. This man, Ferris, had previously trailed Nathalie seeking her estate. He finances Stefano in his strange venture, hoping to draw a visit from Nathalie.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.)

CHAPTER XIV.

"My dear man, on—all the way," replied Stefano and laughed. Ferris rang for the waiter.

"We'll fling one in and get us a fast car and beat it to Brookville now," he said. "This deal gets set before sundown."

Ferris's prediction that the reopening of the Firs after its long disuse would create a "hullabaloo," and Stefano's that Nathalie would be a "furore" as its masked hostess were quickly justified.

Stefano "threw" his opening party, as he had assured Nathalie he would, the night after he had engaged her as his assistant and surest drawing card. Two days later Ferris, who read every newspaper and periodical in New York for potential real estate tips, came across this in the city's most snobbish chronicle of happenings in high life:

"A thrill has been given Long Island society, in the middle of the normally dull interval between the close of the polo and the beginning of the hunting season, by the dashing polo star, Captain Ramon Stefano, of Argentina, who has rented and reopened 'The Firs' famous in its palmy days as the sporting estate of that other great poloist 'Happy Jack' Van Slaick, who was killed last Spring when his horse somersaulted with him in the Grand National.

"Captain Stefano's housewarming, the night of the day he took possession, was an event which will linger long in the memories of the envious lads and lassies of the inner circle who were so fortunate as to receive invitations. He has installed a chef, an adequate array of sideboards and servants, a dance band from his native South America, AND—a dark and mysterious beauty, who will receive his guests at 'The Firs' while he remains at 'The Firs' and WHO WEARS A MASK. Who is she? Captain Ramon smiles suavely and intimates that she may very possibly be of his South American blood kin; but that he does not know. But we have our guess. We believe the sly-eyed senorita is the gallant captain's laughing answer to the many managing mammas who determined when he appeared at Meadowbrook and flashed like a meteor across the firmament of international polo that he would not return to his mines and pampas heart whole and fancy free. We admire Captain Stefano. We admire a sense of humor. But in the name of a myriad of weeping maids and mammas—how can you Captain Ramon?"

"Fair enough," commented Ferris, and permitted himself a chuckle as he read it through and then re-read it. "That oughta help bring the bacon in. You're a clever fella Stefano. You too Ferris you ain't so bad. You two and David Belasco had oughta team up."

Nathalie's admiration too, had gone out to Stefano as a stage manager the night of 'The Firs' reopening, as she reached its entrance gates in the taxicab which brought her from Garden City.

The night before the place had been the picture of desolation. As she came to it again its lawns had been mown, electric bulbs were on the gates, the house as she dismissed her taxicab and entered by the main door had the air of never having been untenanted. From somewhere furniture and rugs which were neither too old nor too new and which chimed exactly with the vanished period of the house's architecture, had been brought to it and placed casually about it. Its lighting was in the same period and precisely right. The dull sheen of the old oak floors matched them. The butler and footmen who moved softly about had the aspect of servants who had grown part of the place by long habit.

Stefano, smiling and handsome, his supple horseman's body rendered salient and striking by his superlative evening clothes, was on the door sill under the fan light to receive her as she arrived. He had a cluster of gardenias in one hand, a bouquet of deep red roses in the other.

His quick eye caught the glitter of bright spangles at the hem of her black dress as her evening wrap fell open enough to reveal the flash of them and he held out the roses.

"Welcome—and once again you find me ravished," he said, and spoke to him softly in Spanish. The man stopped inside and crooked a finger and a maid was behind Nathalie to receive her wrap.

"Unless you have brought your own, or until one you may engage shall arrive—"

Nathalie smiled at him and shook her head.

"No, Captain Stefano, I couldn't have managed it and kept my income. And anyway, you pledged me your good faith last night and I prefer to rely on it. Don't you prefer that I should?"

The smile left Stefano's face and he became completely grave.

"I do. And may death take me swiftly if I fail in the last letter of it. You do me an honor for which I can not find words to thank you. And so we start our adventure gloriously. As I said to you in the road last night there was never a lark so merry as this house and you and I. Good. How much more will we delight in it and remember it in happiness if it goes forward in innocence and stainless honor.

"You see," he continued, "except for the servants we will be alone briefly for I asked you to come at ten so that we could look about a bit before the house begins to fill. My invitations are for eleven and it will be one before all whom I have invited will have arrived. Let us go in then and you get your bearings."

She had not been in the house since her childhood, but a feeling of emotion rose in her as she walked with him through its great lower rooms and out into the service wing where a chef in a white cap was in command. It was her house—still would be for a few weeks longer, and memories of her father and tales she had heard of its open handed hospitality in its heyday came sweeping back to her so that she had to struggle against them. She had to be a little wary too, not to disclose her familiarity with its plan and arrangement of rooms as she walked in it with Stefano on their tour of inspection, for she knew well enough from childish memories every way to turn.

"You've done amazingly," she told Stefano, "And in a single day. How ever did you manage? It is absolutely mellow, as though it had been like this for years."

He laughed but liked it. "Paid the piper mainly," he explained. "Though one did some thinking of sorts. Not a bad job though, what? But I say look here—don't you want to see your nest upstairs before they all troop in?"

Nathalie's admiration too, had gone out to Stefano as a stage manager the night of 'The Firs' reopening, as she reached its entrance gates in the taxicab which brought her from Garden City.

TAKE IT FROM DAD

By Frank H. Cheley

Is the Church Really Dying?
"Another evening wasted away," sighed Bob from his corner just as Dad put down his paper and reached for his magazine.

"How come," asked Mr. Smith, though, not quite understanding, "lessons a bit irksome?"

"Sunday school lessons, yes," replied Bob half reflectively. "Dad, I'm about through with Sunday school and church. Seems to me it's just wasted time when there is so much a fellow wants to do. Besides the church is dying. In a generation or two there won't be any such a thing at all, will there?"

Dad smiled indulgently. "Bob you are always so cock certain in your conclusions. I suppose you have gathered dependable facts for that statement. It's very dangerous to allow one's thinking to be based on mere opinions, or worse, casual impressions.

"It's a very popular indoor sport nowadays among certain very wise folks never to lose an opportunity to give the church and all it stands for, a good kick in the pants, unconscious, no doubt, that such talk advertises to the high heavens their total ignorance of facts. Some things in our modern life, my boy, are far too big to judge from a few scattered facts. Much the same situation as your 'rotten politics.' No doubt that we do have too many little struggling ineffective churches and I share heartily the idea that we have vastly too many sects and creeds and denominations. It would be a marvelous forward step for all modern life if an effective get-together program could be arrived at, but just because here and there you find a half-dead church and an old moss-back preacher who has outlived his day and his usefulness—don't generalize too soon on little or no data."

"Bob, I saw some facts the other day which tended to show that the modern church is the greatest business in the world. It has absolutely world-wide scope. It has branch offices in every community in every civilized country in the world. It has more paid employees than the greatest industry. Its hospitals and orphan homes, its schools and colleges; its organized agencies of hope and love and mercy add more to our modern peace and happiness than any other given single factor.

"Bob, if you and your gang would catch some of the historical values out of your Sunday school lessons instead of just spending your time arguing some minor point for the sake of argument, things would look much different to you. Why take this fact alone, boy, pretty much our whole modern attitude toward women, and that means to us our attitude toward mother, is the result of the tremendous efforts of this church which has from its beginning championed women and motherhood and any boy who is not too old to feel a love for his own mother, is not too old to support an institution that is making life more worthwhile for mothers all over the world."

"And Bob, going to college? Sure if you're ever going to be a senator. But, say, where did the colleges get their start? Did you know that Harvard was founded by a Christian minister? Yale was founded by a group of Christian ministers and supported by the church largely for many years. Fully a quarter of a million of college students in America today are attending schools founded and developed and supported by this 'dying church.' Sort of surprises you doesn't it, boy?"

"Well, another thing to remember, boy, is that the church of today is quite unlike the church of yesterday and very likely the church of tomorrow will be different again. Change and progress are always at work. We know a great deal more in every realm of thought today than even a hundred years ago, and just as rapidly as folks with their prejudice and deep ingrained convictions will allow it to happen, the church, too, will adjust her thinking and teaching to the best that is known by men. Keep in mind as you consider your attitude toward the church that religion is neither apart from life nor a part of life but life itself, lived at its very best. Any agency that devotes itself to such a task cannot die, it can only readjust and readapt itself to new times and new conditions. So don't be a 'wise guy' my boy, and try to blow out the moon!"

"The best of men in all times, men of world travel and very large experience have supported and do still support the church at work with their personal allegiance and their time and their money. Hand me that 'Life of Roosevelt' there, I marked a passage in it not so very long ago. Here it is: 'I think it is the duty of every man to go to church. Frequently I have to listen to sermons that bore me, but the church has contributed so enormously to civilization; its service to society is so great that irrespective of all other considerations I feel I ought to support it and to attend whenever I can.'"

"There you are, old boy, and such argument might be presented on and on and on."
